

"GET COLLINS" IS SLOGAN OF WORKERS

RESCUE PARTY BELIEVED TO BE NEAR CAPTIVE

Optimism Tinges Efforts
Now—Charges of Hoax
are Refuted

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 2.—"Go get Collins!"

Whether Floyd Collins is living or dead, whether he lies within reaching space or many feet below—the men who are digging to him are, on this fourteenth day of the incomparable drama, still unconquered in their battle with uneven odds. Their motto remains the same.

"Go get Collins."

Each day has marked a closer approach to some opening which might lead to the captive of Sand cave.

Gravel has appeared, crickets have appeared and early today word came that a passage was indicated by a sudden sucking of the air in the shaft.

Rescue parties driving their way to Collins were about 12 feet from the level where engineers have calculated he is lying, according to official bulletin.

"The shaft has now reached a depth of 42 feet from the top of the timbering or 47 feet from the top of the ground," said the bulletin.

But no one knows how quickly

RESCUE NEXT SUNDAY
Cave City, Ky., Feb. 12.—Sand Cave will give its answer in the early dawn of next Sunday.

Sixty hours from this morning at 9 o'clock, the shaft through which Floyd Collins, imprisoned cave explorer, will be brought out dead or alive, will reach the level where side-drafting actually to locate his body will begin. Then it will be a matter only of hours.

This was the information conveyed today in an official communique issued over the name of H. T. Carmichael, general supervisor of operations at the pit.

Some, however, may be found which will permit a man to get Floyd Collins and determine whether he is living or dead.

Optimism has tinged every action of those in authority. Whether it is their effort to maintain the morale of the men wallowing in the greasy, slippery, sticky mud of the pit and shaft with cheer so they will get their man out or whether conditions warrant optimism, cannot be determined.

But whether the chill of winter contracts the nerves of his rescuers or the heat of the sudden spring bathes them in sweat—to find Collins there is no day and no night, no light and no dark, no difference between warmth and cold.

The damp of a cave defines for him—if still alive—the entire world.

While the digging continued at the pit, in Cave City, the military court of inquiry, with Brigadier General H. H. Denhardt, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, presiding began its third day of examination of witnesses so that a record might be compiled of the efforts of the state of Kentucky to save one life.

One of the first witnesses to appear was Roy Hyde, the last person to hold verbal communication with the entrapped Collins. He told of crawling to the cave and calling to Floyd and Floyd's answer was only an indistinct moan.

Yesterday the Collins family and Johnny Gerald appeared on the stand to answer questions and to attempt to refute charges of "hoax" and "bungling" made against those engaged in the first rescue attempts.

They were unanimous in their applause of the activities of volunteers and state forces. During the afternoon a charge was made by Columbus Doyle, a preacher, that there had been drinking during the two days following the finding of Floyd trapped in the cave. This, he charged, hampered the work.

As other witnesses followed the state undertook to minimize this testimony, for, as it has been shown there is no intention on the part of the court sitting, to build up a case against anyone. Rather it is the effort to paint in glowing colors of success what had been done in behalf of the captive.

But while others speak in town their allotted piece, at the cave it is the business of one man, Superintendent of Operations Carmichael, to protect the health of his men against the encroachment of the elements. A red hot tent is kept close to the shaft. As each man comes out from his hole of digging he is hustled in here to dry clothing.

A score of men are cutting wood to keep the fires going. Extra tents, extra blankets have been provided that nothing might be left undone for the welfare of the men who are giving their service.

EDISON GOING ON 79 HE SAYS IN INTERVIEW

Inventor, On Vacation,
Tells of First Visit
To Florida

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 12.—"Going on 79."

Thus chuckled Thomas A. Edison, world famous inventor today, when seen at his beautiful home on the banks of the placid Caloosahatchee River here and congratulated on his seventy-eighth birthday which he observed quietly yesterday with his family and old friends.

Sitting in the warm Florida sun in a comfortable arm chair, Mr. Edison gazed over his estate filled with every sort of tropical plant. He was in a reminiscent mood and scorned scientific subjects.

When questioned as to what he considered the two greatest inventions of the last five years, the famous inventor passed up the subject with: "There have been many. Radio was just coming in five years ago but it was invented before that."

Edison told of coming to Florida for the first time 42 years ago.

"In those days the public square in Jacksonville was filled with orange trees," he said. "I decided to take a trip down the west coast and board a little one horse train for Cedar Keys, which ran off the track four times before it arrived there. The rails were simply ribbons of steel on a wooden base."

"From Cedar Keys we took a boat south and I was so struck with the natural beauties of the country surrounding the present city of Fort Myers that we landed at what was then a cattle town of not over forty houses. Shipping cattle to Cuba was a big industry down there then. The climate was perfect and I saw it was a coming place and as I knew that some day I would be an old man and useless, I decided to buy some land here and erect a shack. I liked the tropics. I wanted to be in a jungle, so I planted all these trees you see around here," he continued, waving his hands at the swaying palms and bamboos.

Mr. Edison spends most of his time while wintering here fishing with his old crony, Henry Ford, of automobile fame.

FIFTY TWO BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM MINE

Dortmund, Germany, Feb. 12.—Fifty two bodies had been removed from the collieries here, nine miners had been brought out alive and nearly a hundred more were believed buried alive in the huge Dortmund coal mines today, following an explosion. Dortmund's mines furnish fuel for an important industrial region of Prussia, the Dortmund Union alone employing 10,000 workers in the manufacture of structural steel.

FIRST SKIRMISH BETWEEN DONAHEY AND OPPONENTS OVER REAPPRAISAL BILL

Republican Leaders Plan To Pass McDonald Bill Despite
Opposition of Governor—Lorain Relief Bill Passes
Senate—To Repeal Obsolete Statutes.

Columbus, Feb. 2.—The first skirmish following the break between Governor Donahey and the Republican majority in the state legislature over the taxation program is scheduled to be staged this afternoon in the house.

House leaders plan to have the house this afternoon pass the McDonald bill, providing for quadrennial reappraisal of real estate, beginning in 1925 despite the fact that Governor Donahey has given notice that he disapproves the measure.

The decision of the house leaders was reported at a caucus of Republican house members who voted, 65 to 3 in favor of passing the measure, despite the governor's objections.

House leaders said they expect to follow the same line of action with regard to other tax measures which are pending and to which the governor has taken exceptions.

Each measure will be discussed at a majority caucus and action will be "on its merits," leaders said.

A short session of the senate was scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning, so as to permit finance committee members to leave later in the day for Cincinnati for an inspection Saturday of Longview Hospital.

The Comings bill, carrying an emergency appropriation of $190,000 for relief of tornado-stricken Lorain, is scheduled for first reading in the house today, following passage by the senate Wednesday.

Clearing the general code of Ohio of obsolete statutes is the aim of six measures which are scheduled for reading and reference in the house today. One is a joint resolution by Representative Lipp, Hamilton, directing the attorney general to report to the legislature obsolete and useless sections of the law for repeal. Five other measures, designed to serve a similar purpose, are sponsored by Representative Hunt, Lucas, repealing statutes providing imprisonment on bread and water diet of employees of utility companies whose taxes are in arrears; providing sales of public lands to settlers and surveys for public schools, incorporating turnpike and plank road companies, and regulating stage coaches.

Other measures scheduled for second reading and reference in the house are:

By Baxter, Allen, appropriating $100,000 for an armory at Lima.
Mrs. Derr, Cuyahoga, giving veterans 20 per cent credit in civil service examinations because of their military service, instead of preferential rights now in force.

By Stewart, Lawrence, two bills permitting annexation of one municipal corporation to another by vote at a primary election and permitting annexation of village to contiguous city, both being clarifying acts; by Over-

IS FLOYD COLLINS IN CAVE? KANSAS TOWN INQUIRING

Haddam, Kans., Feb. 12.—This little town in northern Kansas waits today with unusual interest for definite information from Cave City as to the identity of a man who arrived here last night and told local authorities he is Floyd Collins.

Mayor Shearburn, of Haddam, said this morning he expects definite word from Lieutenant Governor H. H. Denhardt some time today.

The supposed Collins arrived in Haddam late Wednesday afternoon and was amazed when told the story of a man, bearing his alleged name, being imprisoned in Kentucky Sand Stone cavern.

"I'll hold him until he's identified," declared Shearburn "and if he's trying to put something over, I'll see he gets the full penalty of the law."

MOTHER AND 3 CHILDREN DIE BY GAS POISON

Father Finds Family Wiped
Out—Suicide Not Indicated

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Julia Candor, and three children, Helen 8, Anna, 7, and Louis Jr., 5, were found dead today from gas poisoning in their home here.

Police immediately began an investigation to determine whether the deaths were accidental. There was nothing to indicate suicide, they said.

Louis Candor, who works at night, returned to his home this morning, and got no response to his knocking. He climbed through a window and discovered the bodies of his wife and children in bed.

Gas poured from open jets in parlor and kitchen.
Candor told police his wife was in excellent spirits when he left home last night.

DECLINING IMPORTS SHOW INCREASING INDEPENDENCE OF AMERICA FROM EUROPE

Washington, Feb. 12.—Indicating the increased independence of the United States from foreign sources of supply, detailed figures on America's $3,610,522,000 import trade for 1924 were made public today by the department of commerce.

Of ten principal imports, eight declined from the 1923 marks. Only one heavy increase was noted—coffee imports leaped from $190,231,000 in 1923 to $248,854,000 last year.

A gain was made in the group comprising coals and oils where a $246,276,000 import compared with $245,926,000. The American market for textiles, the biggest single import item, apparently is turning to domestic producers. Imports were $887,451,000 in 1924 compared to $1,018,732,000 in 1923.

Cotton goods imports valued at $139,304,000 were $23,000,000 under those of 1923. Silk dropped from $446,236,900 to $372,471,000.

Woolen products fell from $198,628,000 to $162,460,000.

Imports of wood and paper products declined from $121,083,000 to $112,004,000; chemicals $123,365,000 to $121,473,000; sugar $380,000,000 to $363,000,000; ores and metals $294,531,000 to $290,224,000; and rubber from $189,757,000 to $179,865,000.

Bobbied hair put a kink in the hair net industry. Last year imports were valued at $1,784,000 compared to $4,038,000 in 1923.

Popularity of foreign perfumery was on the wane, according to figures.

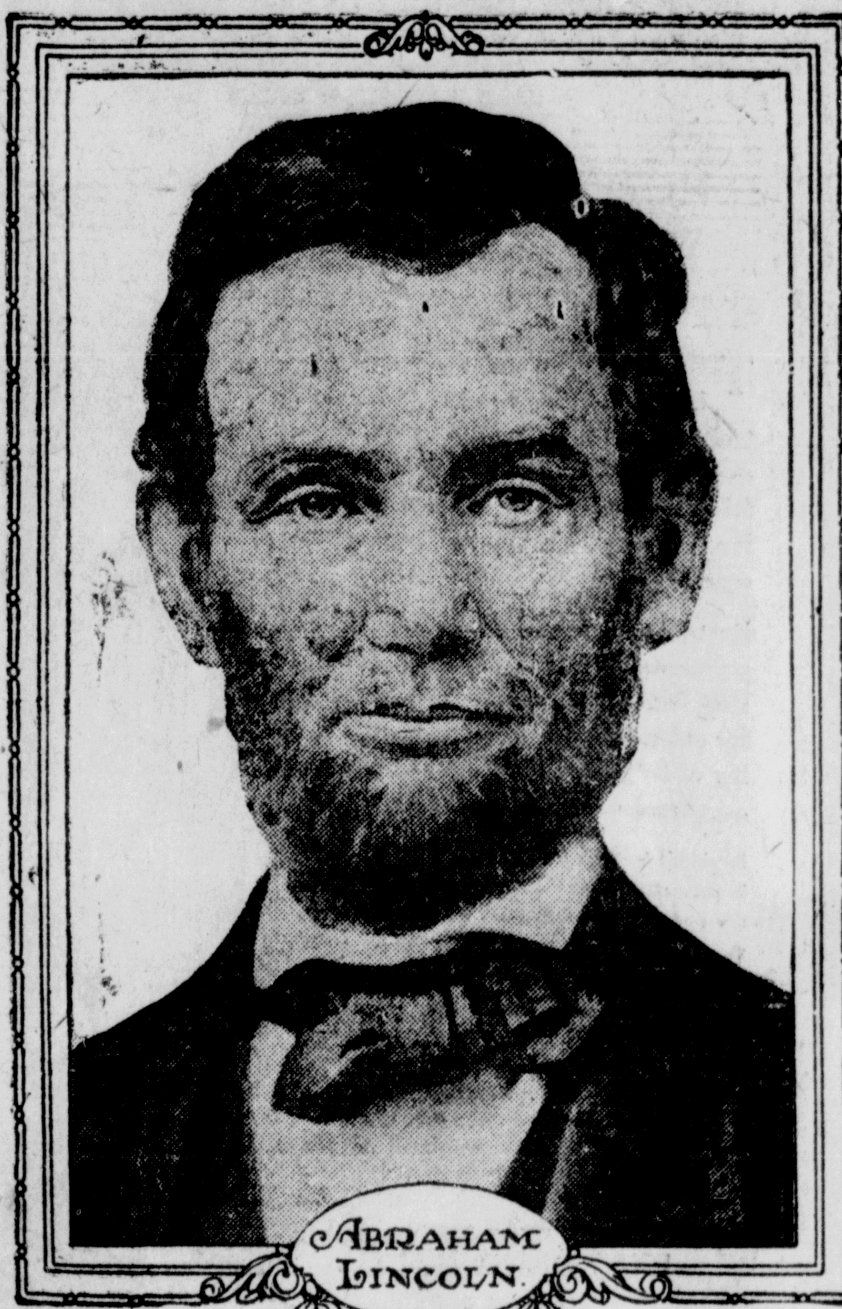

In the industrial group, American producers called upon foreign sources for an increasing supply of copper, lead, platinum, tin and manganese ores. The iron and steel, aluminum, machinery, automobile and vehicle business was down materially.

Increases in imports of such specialties as dice, dominoes, poker chips, golf balls, distilled liquors, straw hats, oriental carpets, nursery stock and European laces and embroideries were disclosed.

Values of other principal imports were:

Raw cotton $48,596,000; jute $75,338,000; burlap $59,395,000; flax and hemp $51,395,000; precious stones $73,509,000; art works $31,719,000; tin $69,000,000; fertilizer $66,531,000; fish $30,000,000; hides and skins $75,051,000; furs $87,750,000; fruits and nuts $72,638,000; flaxseed $30,037,000; vegetable oils $59,507,000; cocoa $29,425,000; spices $16,225,000, and tobacco $83,811,000.

Abraham Lincoln's Birthday

Fifty Thousand Attend Popes Third Anniversary

Rome, Feb. 12.—Fifty thousand members of the Catholic faith were admitted to St. Peters today, where the third anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius was celebrated.

It was the first time the celebration was not held in the Sistine Chapel.

The public was admitted after high mass had been celebrated by Cardinal Locatelli, who was the first to receive the red hat from the present pope.

One of them, Fannie Banks, is believed by Catholic sisters at the home to be 117 years old.

"God and Lincoln was good to me," she said today. "Lincoln set me free so I could work for myself and have shoes for my feet."

The other ex-slaves are Amanda Shepard, 87, and Louisa Green, 83.

WASHINGTON, D. C. FINDS TIME TO REMEMBER ABE

Recollect Lincoln's Rise to
To Fame as President and Martyr

Washington, Feb. 12.—Although there was no official holiday and the government, including congress, functioned as usual, Washington found time today to observe Lincoln's birthday anniversary.

The capital's recollection of Lincoln centers about his occupancy of the White House in the days before and during the civil war for it was here that he rose to his greatness and accomplished the tasks which gave him his place in history.

In a silent old house in Georgetown, Robert Todd Lincoln, only living son of the president, observed his father's birthday quietly and alone, declining all invitations to public functions and formal anniversary ceremonies. His eighty-two years bear heavily upon him.

Ceremonies were held at the Willard hotel, where the tall gaunt, ex-congressman from Illinois stopped before he took the oath of the presidency for the first time; and at the Lincoln Memorial in Potomac park, where the great Lincoln statue looks out calmly and gravely to the shining dome of the capitol a mile and a half away.

The Willard observance was a luncheon under the auspices of the Lincoln memorial university at Harrogate, Tenn., which was founded in accordance with Lincoln's wish that educational facilities be provided for the mountain people of Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Addresses in eulogy of Lincoln were delivered by Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior Work, former Governor Lowden of Illinois; Judge Elbert H. Gary, John Kirby and John Wesley Hill of New York.

The speeches were broadcast through radio station WRC.

Later in the day, services largely attended, were held at the Lincoln memorial under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans of Maryland and the district of Columbia.

The Republican State Clubs, the League of Republican Women and Republican State Voters association, will hold memorial services tonight.

The little brick house, where Lincoln died in Tenth street, after being shot by John Wilkes Booth at Ford's theater, is now a museum and many visitors were attracted there today, more than usual, on the great man's birthday.

DR. GEORGE HARDING RECALLS MEETING WITH ABE LINCOLN

Marion, O., Feb. 12.—Dr. George T. Harding, eighty, father of the late president, recalling today the only time he met Abraham Lincoln, said:

"It was in the White House in August of 1864. I called with another civil war comrade, E. M. Williams, who, afterwards, became editor of the Ohio Farmer. I said to Mr. Lincoln: 'Mr. President, we are Buckeyes and we came to shake your hand.' Lincoln stretched out both hands to us. 'Well,' he drawled, 'I am certainly glad to see such nice looking young men from the Buckeye state, which stood loyally by me. When you go back home tell them that you met the handsomest man you ever saw.'"

"And Lincoln never cracked a smile."

"But," continued, Dr. Harding today, "when you looked into Lincoln's face, and realized the heart of the man," he was not so homesly. He was a great man."

Just fifty-two years after meeting Lincoln, Dr. Harding slept in the same room in which he talked to Lincoln when his son was president of the United States.

BELIEVE POISONING AT UNIVERSITY WILL REMAIN A MYSTERY

Columbus, O., Feb. 12.—Indications today are that the mystery surrounding the distribution of capsuled strychnine among Ohio State university students, resulting in two deaths and narrow escapes from death by at least four other students, will remain unsolved.

Police, who conducted an investigation into the mystery, admitted they have practically no hope of reaching a solution.

PLANS FOR PROGRAM OF CHAUTAUQUA ARE BEING ANNOUNCED

First announcement of program plans for the 1925 season has just been made by the local chautauqua committee. The seven-day Redpath assembly will include the American comedy, "Adam and Eva," which enjoyed a year's run at the Longacre Theater in New York City. Likewise Gounod's immortal grand opera, "Faust" will be produced by the noted impresario, Milton Ahorn. The Jackson Jubilee Singers, under the direction of Robert Jackson, head of the music department of Western University in Kansas City, will make a contribution of choice melody, featuring songs of the southland.

Among the lecturers to be offered are Hon. Charles H. Brough, former governor of Arkansas; Ruth Bryan Owen, distinguished daughter of a distinguished father, and Edward A. Marshall, landscape specialist. Others are to be announced within the next few weeks.

Jess Pugh, one of America's leading funmakers, is to be featured along with a brass choir from the studio of Thurlow Lieurance in Lincoln, Neb. Just as fame came to Strickland Gillilan through his "Off Agin, On Agin, Gone Agin, Finigan," and to Ralph Bingham through his "Colored Picnic" and "Bill Johnson's One Tune," so fame came to Jess Pugh through the story of the "Snuff-Stricken Reader." It is a classic in character interpretation a real masterpiece of well acted humor. This number along with dialect stories and selections from heavier literature, will be included in Mr. Pugh's chautauqua program.

Some new features of chautauqua junior work will be offered next summer, including a special entertainment for the children on the closing afternoon, and the organization of a junior music club which is to be affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banishes every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Sohn's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of the disease he will gladly return your money without comment.

FRIENDS CAPTURE SECOND PLACE IN LEAGUE STANDING

By L. J. WONES

The First M. E. team lost a hard fought game Wednesday night at Central gym in the High School League of Sunday School basketball teams when the Friends church team won by a 12 to 8 score, the latter team winning second place in the standing.

The game was interesting, and a bit rough. The winners were slightly outplayed in the opening half and after trailing at this time by a 6 to 5 score they made a time comeback in the other two periods. A foul by Parks tied the score at six all. Mobley and Parks scored fielders and Smith dropped in a long one giving his team a six point lead. P. Spahr scored near the end of the fourth quarter and this was the only score the First M. E. Church bunch obtained in the second half. Smith, Mobley and Parks started for the winners while North, Stearns and Spahr played well for the losers.

The Trinity M. E. team did not experience any trouble in downing the First U. P. team by a 25 to 4 score. The First U. P. team was handicapped not a little as Wakely and Tribby, two regulars, failed to show up.

The losers got but two fielders Davidson and Bales being the authors, in the first quarter. The winners then made baskets from all angles and also played a tight guarding game and held the First U. P. Church five scoreless the rest of the fray.

Howard Jordan and Morton were the shining lights for the Trinity bunch. Jordan was high man with five fielders and four fouls while Morton was runner up with a trio of baskets from the field and the same number from the charity line.

RATHER HATES HERSELF

THE artist's model whose jewels to the value of $2,000 were alleged to have been stolen recently, certainly hates herself when she offers to give the thief a kiss as the reward for the return of her trinkets—and no questions asked.

A pretty dilemma for a porch-climber to be in. What shall be his choice? If he is a child of illusion, a romantic thief, one of those fictionalized nature's gentlemen who somehow get into unconventional modes of living, he will reason that a second of paradise is worth all the (reputed) jewels in the world. He will philosophize to himself that, after all, he took the (reputed) jewels as a means to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and all of that and each of those is contained in the pledged caress of the despoiled artist's model.

Contrariwise he may be simply a hard egg. He may say, with a loud and nasty jeer, that inasmuch as he can abstract jewels without difficulty, he can as easily confiscate kisses. Jewels (reputed or genuine) to the tune of $2,000 in the hand, he may argue, are worth more than any number of kisses. It is to be hoped he is not that sort of man. Surely gallantry has not left a profession which, in its earlier days, rather prided itself on its chivalry to womanhood.

KEEP AT IT MR. COOLIDGE

SINCE the war the cost of government has everywhere been excessive and the President is certainly right in incessantly hammering on the need of lightening this excessive overhead. The opportunities for lowering Federal expenses have by no means been exhausted. To that task Congress requires to be continually held by power of counsel from the White House and pressure of public opinion, but there is true economy that cuts out waste, extravagance and unprofitable expenditures and the harmful kind of economy that sacrifices essential service on the part of the Government. Retrenchment should mean more than merely smaller appropriations; it must mean smaller expenditures where justified and for sound reasons.

Where Mr. Coolidge is at a disadvantage in dealing with Congress is that if persuasion fails he can only use the veto. He cannot in appropriation bills approve good items and reject bad ones, as the Governor of New York can, and Congress profits by his lack of power. As a responsible executive and party leader Mr. Coolidge may from conviction preach economy, but unless Congress acts in the spirit of his teaching and practices economy as a matter of business the taxpayer will fare no better. In the end he is always at the mercy of Congress.

WHO WILL DECIDE?

WILL H. HAYS, overlord of the movies, come forth with the announcement that 3,500 reels of film "of special appeal to boys and girls" are to be shown Saturday mornings in many cities throughout the country. This raises the question of what our boys and girls of today will really find "appealing" on the screen. Will Mr. Hays decide what pictures will interest children, or will the children decide?

Attempting to choose anything for youngsters is a precarious business. How often has the parent seen an expensive toy tossed aside for a battered spool or a disreputable doll? Similarly will children scorn talking machine records of Mother Goose in favor of Beethoven or Berlin.

It isn't enough that Mr. Hays assures us the pictures will not be "goody good." Even if they aren't "goody good," they may be, in the opinion of the young spectators, "badly bad" should they fail to catch the fancy of the adolescent.

No one can say dogmatically what will entertain a child, except a child. Adults can say only what ought to entertain the child, which may be something altogether different.

AGE AND YOUTH

You are talking fame and fortune, you are young and brave and bold.

And I'm talking friends and friendship—that's a sign I'm getting old.

You are talking deeds of valor, high achievements and success.

And no doubt you think me foolish just for talking helplessness.

Well, I've lived for fame and fortune, served them both and struggled through.

Used to think them all-important when I was a lad like you; And when some old-foggy muttered words about the joy of friends, I just put him down as crazy; I was seeking nobler ends.

Youth must fight and try to conquer, seek new goals at every turn. Not from lips but from experience all the truths of life we learn;

But when all the fighting's over, the battle's lost or won, Old men want to count their friendships and the good that they have done.

Have we thought and acted kindly, have we helped the time we could?

Have we lived among our people as an influence for good?

Mrs. Saunders Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Troubles of Change of Life

Knoxville, Tenn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while going through the Change of Life. I was very nervous, could not sleep and had melancholy spells. In fact, I was nearly insane at times and my memory was almost a blank. I was so weak I could not do my housework half of the time and suffered dreadfully with my back. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles that I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I feel so well I think I do not need any medicine now, but I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."—Mrs. T. A. SAUNDERS, 711 E. Depot Street, Knoxville, Tenn.

BLIND MEN

The blood of this heart of mine runs slower and warms with sympathy and love toward that one who cannot see with his eyes.

And yet I have never known a blind man who was not patient and of sweet spirit.

One of the happiest memories of my college days is that of the hours spent in reading to a blind man and of his great appreciation. His fine and noble spirit often crosses my path in the midst of anxieties and problems and it tells me to be patient and not too fretful.

I have just finished reading the life of Joseph Pulitzer, who, for nearly a quarter of a century directed the New York World—while blind. But, oh, how much he saw!

Lafadio Hearn was almost totally blind and yet when I note all that he achieved and the vast amount of reading necessary to have written all that he did I am astounded. Prescott wrote a masterpiece of history while blind. Roosevelt had the use of only one eye during the last part of his marvelous career.

And I wonder, how many realize that the great designer of ships and yachts, John B. Harbeson, was totally blind? This blind man's fingers with their delicate touch created the greatest examples of yacht winners and pleasure vessels that have ever been built. Just consider that he was the head as well as the founder of that great shipbuilding house and that he was blind from the age of 15!

How very little we, who have eyes, actually see.

Just to look into the face of this world with its vastness of beauty and opportunity is a privilege. Why should time be wasted—why should there be any excuse whatsoever for repining or complaint?

Even when the eyes gather the gray rays and night enters, the lights in the heart should never dim or flicker.

COMMISSIONERS DECIDE AGAINST REAL ESTATE RE-APPRAISAL IN COUNTY THIS YEAR

There will be no re-appraisal of real estate and property in Greene County in 1925.

This was definitely decided by the County Commissioners after a short executive session Wednesday afternoon following the public hearing Monday morning, when all three members of the board concurred in voting against the appraisal this year.

The commissioners were influenced in their decision, they announced, by the probable enactment of new laws in the state legislature that would bring upon the taxpayers added expense.

GIRL DRINKS LYE IN EFFORT TO END LIFE AT HOME HERE

Anna Hipschire, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Hipschire, South West Street, may die as the result of swallowing a solution of lye Monday evening in an attempt to commit suicide. The poison burned her seriously in the throat and internally. Possibility that a portion may have entered her lungs, causes Dr. Paul D. Espey attending physician, to fear pneumonia.

No reason for the suicide attempt can be given by members of her family and because the condition of her throat makes speech impossible, the girl has not been questioned to learn a motive. Relatives say they fear she became despondent due to a nervous condition.

The girl has been employed in a local rope mill. Monday she was at her work and Monday evening walked home with her mother, stopping at a grocery to buy a can of lye. She ate supper with members of her family and immediately after the meal retired to her room. Her cries attracted other members of the family shortly afterward.

The suicide of Velda Lemons here several weeks ago by drinking lye, inspired this means of ending her life, the girl admitted. It is thought that she drank only a small quantity of the solution however and the fact that she expelled some of the poison immediately, aided efforts to save her life.

Members of her family declare that no trouble with her sweetheart presented itself as a possible motive. Edgar Perrin, Jasper Pike, said to have been "keeping company" with the girl, can assign no reason for the attempt to end her life. He visited her since the attempted suicide.

county-wide appraisal, commissioners said.

A third reason against an appraisal of property this year is that no special fund has been laid aside covering the expense attached to such a move, with the result the county would be forced to go farther into debt by borrowing sufficient funds.

A re-appraisal of property in 1926 is practically certain, commissioners declared, whether by the enactment of a new law or by decision of the county commissioners.

The decision came somewhat as a surprise when it is considered that practically every argument introduced at the public hearing in the Assembly Room of the Court House Monday morning was in favor of a re-appraisal this year.

Fourteen years have elapsed since the county property has been appraised. The custom that an appraisal be made once every ten years was summarily rejected in 1926 because of the high prices real estate brought during the World War.

Wednesday's hearing was dropped in the afternoon because of lack of attendance and commissioners reached their decision late the same afternoon.

WILL BIND CLINE OVER TO GRAND JURY FOR APRIL ACTION

Ralph Cline, 19, Davies, W. Va., will probably be bound over to the Grand Jury by Police Judge E. D. Smith on a charge of passing a forged check on the Criterion Clothing Store for $20 and stealing $80 worth of clothes from Homer J. Hicks, 307 Hill Street, it is said.

A telegram was received from the father of the boy, who is a civil engineer at Davey, said he would be unable to come to Xenia and declared a letter would follow.

Deputy Sheriff George Spencer brought Cline to Xenia from Paulding, O. Tuesday and he was remanded to the County Jail in default of $500 bond when he pleaded not guilty to the charges at his arraignment in Police Court, Wednesday.

It has been learned that the Ford coupe he had been driving in Xenia was rented from the Bristol Buick Company, of Bristol, W. Va., while Cline was visiting his aunt there, and was not owned by the employer of his father as he first said. The car was rented from the "Rent-a-Ford" department, and Cline has since been touring the country. Cline rented the machine under the name of "Cyrus O. Canterbury, of Huntington, W. Va."

Cline made away with the clothing and passed the check while on a visit with friends here. While in Paulding he was also visiting a friend.

Cline was forced to buy Tennessee licenses for the machine while in that state. The car is here now and the owner is expected here to claim it. It was rented January 17 Cline will be held in the County Jail pending action of the April Grand Jury. He was in school at Lynchburg when he began his tour.

DAYLIGHT DOES NOT AFFECT SHORT RADIO WAVES MUCH AS LONG

With Manchester, Conn., Feb. 12.—Daylight conditions do not have a great effect on short radio waves as they do long waves is proved by the experience of John L. Hart of this place who has just succeeded in transmitting signals as the continent on a wavelength of twenty-one meters. Reception of his short wave signal under ordinary daylight conditions have been reported by two West Coast amateurs—F. C. Jones of 1822 1/2 Avenue, Berkeley, Calif., and Matt Svotewohl of Hartley, Iowa. Same signals were likewise received by William Justice Lee of Fort Park, Fla. All of this transmission took place on Sunday, December 21. For the last two years, amateurs have been attempting to relay code across the country in daylight, but their efforts were not very successful. The American Radio Relay League organized the tests during which signals were transmitted one station to another on the short waves. In some cases the waves were started from the east coast simultaneously. Mr. Reinartz, who is the inventor of the Reinartz tuner, has been experimenting with short waves for some time, and the fact that his signals were transmitted the entire distance without relaying is regarded as an important demonstration of the value of the extremely short waves for daylight work. Mr. Reinartz was the designer of the transmitter which made possible the first transatlantic communication across the Atlantic.

MILLIONAIRE REGAINS YOUTH

NOTED PHYSICIAN SAYS GLAND EXTRACTS WILL "MAKE OVER" MANY A MAN AND WOMAN.

The Western millionaire who recently married a famous and beautiful artist is reported to have paid a fabulous sum to receive the rejuvenating gland treatment from one of America's leading doctors. Feeding the blood with gland matter has met with amazing success, but until the discovery of Kath, only the very wealthy could afford the gland treatment.

The Kath Institute reports that patients have been amazed to find a new spark of life ignited when the worn-out glands of the body are supplied with the genuine extract of animal glands, as found in Kath. Pep, strength, endurance, come back quickly in many cases. Appetite improves, flabby muscles take on new tone and the system tingles with fiery energy, say numerous users.

The Kath gland treatment is for everyday folks who cannot afford high-priced medical treatment by specialists. In a few weeks this Kath treatment often has the same fine effects as the costly treatment now being taken by the large number of rich people—full healthy cheeks, an abundance of strength, vigor, love of action.

The following druggists have been appointed local Kath representatives and are authorized to guarantee that unless the Kath gland treatment does exactly what is claimed for it—money will be refunded.

Nerves All Unstrung?

Xenia Folks Should Find the Cause and Correct It.

Are you all worn out? Feel tired, nervous, half-sick? Do you have a constant backache; sharp twinges of pain, too, with dizzy spells and annoying urinary disorders? Then there's cause for worry and more prompt help. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Xenia folks recommend Doan's for just such troubles.

Mrs. Woodrow C. Warner, 225 E. Third St., Xenia, says: "When I stooped, I got sharp stabs of pain through my back and my back often felt so cramped, I could hardly move at times. Mornings my back and shoulders felt as stiff as a board. I was tired and weak and became dizzy. I also had severe nervous spells. My kidneys acted irregularly also. Doan's Pills relieved the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Warner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

None Can Copy Its Chief Value

The Chassis is Patented

Essex is a totally different type. It gives results no other car ever gave.

Low price, without disappointment in looks or reliability.

Economy without sacrifice of performance.

Stability and highest roadability without unnecessary weight.

The riding ease of large, costly cars. The handling ease of a bicycle. Utter simplicity in design.

The lowest maintenance cost, we believe, of any car in the world.

Two of every three Essex buyers come to it from those who formerly owned cars bought chiefly for their low first price.

Just as the Coach body and Coach name have been extensively copied, even by costliest cars, so must future mechanical design seek to approximate the results Essex gives.

But the patents which make the Super-Six the most enduring, smoothest motor and give it all advantages, also prevent any from copying its chassis.

Surely you cannot be satisfied with less than Essex offers. Its cost is but little more than cars of the lowest price.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 50c.

A STORY ABOUT POULTRY

Well, no sooner had we taken good advice and decided to buy our own home than my wife insisted that we keep a cow and some poultry. I sat down on the cow, but I agreed that we should have some poultry about. I didn't care to do the thing in a large scale, however, so I bought just a little poultry-a canary bird.

Although he never laid an egg and sang only when I was at work, I loved him dearly. Each night I watched him stick his head under one of his wings and dream of spilling bird-seed on our new linen tablecloth in the presence of aristocratic company.

But now poor little Alexander, for that was his name, is an angel. The soul of the wee feathered songster has passed on. (Grocer, cancel that order for poultry food.) As this is written my bereaved wife sits on the back porch with a shotgun in hand, waiting for the cruel, heartless cat that slew him. If she kills the kitten, we will bury it tenderly, for it will serve as a casket for our poor little Alexander.

'Tis a real blow. We look at the downy feathers that are left and weep unashamed. We wonder if when we start on that one Great Adventure we will find our poultry there to sing and chirp and warble tunes of melody.

Yes, we have gone out of the poultry business. There is a vacant cage at our house. (Pardon my tears.) The soft, cunning feathers that are left have been placed in a lard can in the attic. For who knows but what some day we will have another little canary that will be killed by a cruel cat? And if ever another such sorrow should come, we will take the feathers that are left and place them with those now in the lard can. And with them we will make a cushion.

Yes, we have no poultry. We have no poultry today.

XENIA HEARD FROM

A Xenia Fellow named Mose Had a farm of which he'd dispose; He decided to tell In an ad he would sell- It's gone by this time I suppose.

Speaking of our dead canary, I wish to call your attention to the fact that canaries are often advertised for sale on this page. If you have pets or chickens for sale, advertise them on this page tomorrow.

We haven't read for some time anything about the dinosaurs eggs which Roy Chapman Andrews found and which are reported to be so many, many hundreds of years old. Since, they are so very, very old let us hope he doesn't drop them. Read all the ads now.

NEW LAW GOVERNS POULTRY SHIPPING BECAUSE OF DISEASE

The State Department of Agriculture Division of Animal Industry has recently enacted new regulations for Ohio since it has been determined that the so-called European Fowl Pest, a contagious and infectious disease of fowls with high mortality exists in the United States, governing the shipment of poultry through Ohio, according to a report received by the Miami Hatchery, at Babb's Hardware Store.

It has been recently learned that fowls affected with this disease have been shipped to several points of Ohio, subsequently exposing Ohio poultry.

It has been ordered that all railroads, transportation companies and other carriers; also commission companies, assembling and feeding establishments, must destroy by deep burial in lime or by burning the carcasses of all dead fowls.

It has been reported that dead fowls have been thrown from cars containing diseased fowls en route through Ohio.

The state department is soliciting the co-operation of the poultry industry in all of its branches to prevent the Fowl Pest from spreading to Ohio which has thus far been practically free from the disease.

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA and JIM LELAND, bride and groom, settle in their new home to find that Jim's mother expects to rule their lives. Cynthia rebels; Jim's devotion to his mother blinds him. Cynthia meets PHIL GRAHAM, an old friend, and invites him home for the night.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XI—COMPLICATIONS

AS Cynthia stood staring at her husband's telegram Madame Leland appeared in the library doorway. "Ah, Cynthia," she murmured sweetly, "I was waiting for you. I'm going to take you home with me to stay while James is away. There's no need of keeping the two houses open, with just a lone woman staying in each one. We can be company for each other."

VIOLET DARE

Cynthia hesitated about replying, not knowing just what to say. She did not want to stay with her mother-in-law, but she realized that Madame Leland was trying hard to overlook everything and be friendly, and that she too must do her part.

"That was so kind of you," she answered after a moment. "I'll run upstairs and pack a bag, and be with you immediately."

"Oh, I had Frances pack your bag while I waited. I supervised it myself, so I'm sure that you'll have everything you want," Cynthia's face burned. She could not bear to have anyone take her so for granted as her mother-in-law did. She longed now to cry out that she would stay in her own home, where she wanted to be; that she would not go a step toward the other house.

But remembering her vow of the night before she merely followed Jim's mother out to the car that had just arrived, and so quietly listening while Madame Leland talked all the way to her home about Jim's trip, and how long he would be gone.

It seemed to Cynthia, as she unpacked her belongings in Madame Leland's guest room, that she never could stay there a single night. She wanted Jim more than she ever had before. If only he had been there with her, to take her in his arms and kiss her and tell her that nothing mattered, anyway, she could have stayed quite cheerfully. But to see Madame Leland all day and every day and never be allowed to have a thought of her own was a prospect that she would have given anything to avoid.

She wondered how long Madame Leland would avoid the subject of Phil Graham. Would she completely ignore having seen them having luncheon that day, or would she tactfully bring it up later?

That question was answered when dessert had been served and the maid had withdrawn.

"Cynthia dear, I don't want you to think that I'm finding fault with you, but do you think it was quite wise to greet your friend, Mr.—er—Mr. Walte, is it, so exuberantly this noon?"

"His name is Graham," said Cynthia, steadily enough. "And I hadn't realized that I was acting unconventionally. He's such an old friend, really like a brother to me and I was awfully glad to see him."

"Yes, of course; but a young woman, and especially a bride, has to be careful, especially when she's a stranger in her new home city," Mrs. Leland went on, smoothly. Cynthia wished that she wouldn't be quite so suave about it. Why pretend to be so sweet when she really didn't feel that way at all?

"A number of persons spoke to me about it," Madame Leland went on, between spoonfuls of frozen pudding. "and Louella asked me if I didn't think I ought to suggest to you that you act with a little more restraint."

"Louella probably never had a man that glad to see her in her life," thought Cynthia, but she kept the thought to herself, and merely murmured "Oh, yes," as if the words had not cut her cruelly.

"You see, people are so quick to misunderstand a girl; why, I remember before Louella and Marjorie were married, I never even allowed them to lunch alone with a man, except at Lewis's, where they'd been allowed to go as very young girls; everyone realizes that it's quite all right for a girl who's made her debut to lunch unchaperoned at Lewis's."

"Then I suppose it would have been all right if Phil and I had gone there today?" asked Cynthia, a hint of malice in her tone at what must seem like mere misunderstanding on her part.

"Well, I hardly think so. Frank-

"I had Frances pack your bag."

ly, Cynthia, it seems to me that it would have been much better if you had not lunched alone anywhere with Mr. Graham. Now, if you had asked someone else to go with you—myself, for instance, or Louella—

"But I had understood that you were frightfully upset about the financial matters you've been discussing with Jim, and so I couldn't feel free to ask you. And Louella is so busy with her children at noon as a rule; I wouldn't have dared ask her."

Cynthia hated herself for the pretense she was making of having wanted to ask them; she hadn't even thought of doing so, of course. But she was thoroughly out of patience with Madame Leland, who now, cornered, admitted that it did seem that Cynthia could not have followed her suggestion.

"But you shouldn't have lunched with him at all, under those circumstances," she concluded. "It was really most unwise. James is so likely to overlook such matters that I really must be severe with you, Cynthia. Don't do it again, will you?"

"Hardly," answered Cynthia, staring at her plate and hoping that the tears in her eyes would not fall. "Phil's gone away, and said when he left that he wouldn't be back again. When the people at home hear how unwelcome he was in my home they aren't likely to come to see me if they happen to be in town."

And in silence that spoke louder than many words, Madame Leland led the way to the drawing room.

"GET COLLINS" IS SLOGAN OF WORKERS

RESCUE PARTY BELIEVED TO BE NEAR CAPTIVE

Optimism Tinges Efforts
Now—Charges of Hoax
are Refuted

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 2.—"Go get Collins!"

Whether Floyd Collins is living or dead, whether he lies within reaching space or many feet below—the men who are digging to him are, on this fourteenth day of the incomparable drama, still unconquered in their battle with uneven odds. Their motto remains the same.

"Go get Collins."

Each day has marked a closer approach to some opening which might lead to the captive of Sand cave. Gravel has appeared, crickets have appeared and early today word came that a passage was indicated by a sudden sucking of the air in the shaft.

Rescue parties driving their way to Collins were about 12 feet from the level where engineers have calculated he is lying, according to official bulletin.

"The shaft has now reached a depth of 42 feet from the top of the timbering or 47 feet from the top of the ground," said the bulletin.

But no one knows how quickly

RESCUE NEXT SUNDAY
Cave City, Ky., Feb. 12.—Sand Cave will give its answer in the early dawn of next Sunday.

Sixty hours from this morning at 9 o'clock, the shaft through which Floyd Collins, imprisoned cave explorer, will be brought out dead or alive will reach the level where side-drafting actually to locate his body will begin. Then it will be a matter only of hours.

This was the information conveyed today in an official communication issued over the name of H. T. Carmichael, general supervisor of operations at the pit.

Some crawlway may be found which will permit a man to get Floyd Collins and determine whether he is living or dead.

Optimism has tinged every action of those in authority. Whether it is their effort to maintain the morale of the men wallowing in the greasy, slippery, sticky mud of the pit and shaft with cheer so they will get their man out or whether conditions warrant optimism, cannot be determined.

But whether the chill of winter contracts the nerves of his rescuers or the heat of the sudden spring bathes them in sweat—to find Collins there is no day and no night, no light and no dark, no difference between warmth and cold.

The damp of a cave defines for him—if still alive—the entire world. While the digging continued at the pit, in Cave City, the military court of inquiry, with Brigadier General H. H. Denhardt, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, presiding began its third day of examination of witnesses so that a record might be compiled of the efforts of the state of Kentucky to save one life.

One of the first witnesses to appear was Roy Hyde, the last person to hold verbal communication with the entrapped Collins. He told of crawling to the cave in and calling to Floyd and Floyd's answer was only an indistinct moan.

Yesterday the Collins family and Johnny Gerald appeared on the stand to answer questions and to attempt to refute charges of "hoax" and "killing" made against those engaged in the first rescue attempts. They were unanimous in their applause of the activities of volunteers and state forces. During the afternoon a charge was made by Columbus Doyle, a preacher, that there had been drinking during the two days following the finding of Floyd trapped in the cave. This, he charged, hampered the work.

As other witnesses followed the state undertook to minimize this testimony, for as it has been shown there is no intention on the part of the court sitting, to build up a case against anyone. Rather it is the effort to paint in glowing colors of success what had been done in behalf of the captive.

But while others speak in town their allotted piece, at the cave it is the business of one man, Superintendent of Operations Carmichael, to protect the health of his men against the encroachment of the elements. A red hot tent is kept close to the shaft. As each man comes out from his hole of digging he is hustled in here to dry clothing.

A score of men are cutting wood to keep the fires going. Extra tents, extra blankets have been provided that nothing might be left undone for the welfare of the men who are giving their service.

To Florida

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 12.—"Going on 79."

Thus chuckled Thomas A. Edison, world famous inventor today, when seen at his beautiful home on the banks of the placid Caloosahatchee River here and congratulated on his seventy-eighth birthday which he observed quietly yesterday with his family and old friends.

Sitting in the warm Florida sun in a comfortable arm chair, Mr. Edison gazed over his estate filled with every sort of tropical plant. He was in a reminiscent mood and scorned scientific subjects.

When questioned as to what he considered the two greatest inventions of the last five years, the famous inventor passed up the subject with: "There have been many. Radio was just coming in five years ago but it was invented before that."

Edison told of coming to Florida for the first time 42 years ago.

"In those days the public square in Jacksonville was filled with orange trees," he said. "I decided to take a trip down the west coast and boarded a little one horse train for Cedar Key, which ran off the track four times before it arrived there. The rails were simply ribbons of steel on a wooden base."

They were unanimous in their applause of the activities of volunteers and state forces. During the afternoon a charge was made by Columbus Doyle, a preacher, that there had been drinking during the two days following the finding of Floyd trapped in the cave. This, he charged, hampered the work.

As other witnesses followed the state undertook to minimize this testimony, for as it has been shown there is no intention on the part of the court sitting, to build up a case against anyone. Rather it is the effort to paint in glowing colors of success what had been done in behalf of the captive.

But while others speak in town their allotted piece, at the cave it is the business of one man, Superintendent of Operations Carmichael, to protect the health of his men against the encroachment of the elements. A red hot tent is kept close to the shaft. As each man comes out from his hole of digging he is hustled in here to dry clothing.

A score of men are cutting wood to keep the fires going. Extra tents, extra blankets have been provided that nothing might be left undone for the welfare of the men who are giving their service.

FIFTY TWO BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM MINE

Dortmund, Germany, Feb. 12.—Fifty two bodies had been removed from the collieries here, nine miners had been brought out alive and nearly a hundred more were believed buried alive in the huge Dortmund coal mines today, following an explosion.

Dortmund's mines furnish fuel for an important industrial region of Prussia, the Dortmund Union alone employing 10,000 workers in the manufacture of structural steel.

FIRST SKIRMISH BETWEEN DONAHEY AND OPPONENTS OVER REAPPRAISAL BILL

Republican Leaders Plan To Pass McDonald Bill Despite
Opposition of Governor—Lorain Relief Bill Passes
Senate—To Repeal Obsolete Statutes.

Columbus, Feb. 2.—The first skirmish following the break between Governor Donahey and the Republican majority in the state legislature over the taxation program is scheduled to be staged this afternoon in the house.

House leaders plan to have the house this afternoon pass the McDonald bill, providing for quadrennial reappraisal of real estate, beginning in 1925 despite the fact that Governor Donahey has given notice that he disapproves the measure.

The decision of the house leaders was reported at a caucus of Republican house members who voted, 65 to 3 in favor of passing the measure, despite the governor's objections.

House leaders said they expect to follow the same line of action with regard to other tax measures which are pending and to which the governor has taken exceptions.

Each measure will be discussed at a majority caucus and action will be "on its merits," leaders said.

A short session of the senate was scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning, so as to permit finance committee members to leave later in the day for Cincinnati for an inspection Saturday of Longview Hospital.

The coming bill, carrying an emergency appropriation of $190,000 for relief of tornado-stricken Lorain, is scheduled for first reading in the house today, following passage by the senate Wednesday.

Clearing the general code of Ohio of obsolete statutes is the aim of six measures which are scheduled for reading and reference in the house today. One is a joint resolution by Representative Lipp, Hamilton, directing the attorney general to report to the legislature obsolete and useless sections of the law for repeal.

Five other measures, designed to serve a similar purpose, are sponsored by Representative Hunt, Lucas, repealing statutes providing imprisonment on bread and water diet of employees of utility companies whose taxes are in arrears; providing sales of public lands to settlers and surveys for public schools, incorporating turnpike and plan road companies, and repealing stage coaches.

Other measures scheduled for second reading and reference in the house are:

By Baxter, Allen, appropriating $100,000 for an armory at Lima.

Mrs. Derr, Cuyahoga, giving veterans 20 per cent credit in civil service examinations because of their military service, instead of preferential rights now in force.

By Stewart, Lawrence, two bills permitting annexation of one municipal corporation into another by vote at a primary election and permitting annexation of village to contiguous city, both being clarifying acts; by Over-turf, Licking, removing jurisdiction in divorces and partitions from probate courts of larger counties and placing jurisdiction in common pleas court; by Westover, Mahoning, abolishing offices of justice of peace, by popular vote, and substituting county, circuit courts; by McDonald, Montgomery, authorizing charter municipalities to enact and publish legislation for improvements in accordance with charter provisions instead of state law (carries emergency clause); by Burnett, Trumbull, providing for levy of tax to meet states share of cost of abolishing grade crossings.

Measures scheduled for second reading and reference in the senate include:

By Lauby, Summit, extending terms of prosecuting attorneys to four years by Bender, providing increasing checks upon justices of the peace, by making possible removal hearings before common pleas courts, on petition of five per cent of voters, instead of 20 per cent at present.

MOTHER AND 3 CHILDREN DIE BY GAS POISON

Out—Suicide Not Indicated

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Julia Candor, and three children, Helen 8, Anna, 7, and Louis Jr., 5, were found dead today from gas poisoning in their home here.

Police immediately began an investigation to determine whether the deaths were accidental. There was nothing to indicate suicide they said. Louis Candor, who works at night, returned to his home this morning, and got no response to his knocking. He climbed through a window and discovered the bodies of his wife and children in bed.

Gas poured from open jets in parlor and kitchen.

Candor told police his wife was in excellent spirits when he left home last night.

FOR SALE! STRONG MAN, WILLING TO WORK, NEEDS CASH

Zanesville, O., Feb. 12.—J. T. Cramer, 42, with a wife and five children to support, has offered to sell himself to the highest bidder for a year. He formerly lived in Newark and Nashport, Ohio, but moved to Zanesville last fall.

"Ever since Christmas," he said, today, "I have been visiting the factories every day in search of a job, but without success. Now I am offering to sell myself, an able bodied man, to the highest bidder."

While in Newark, Cramer became the apprentice of a blacksmith, but by the time he had learned his trade, the blacksmithing business was all shot and Old Dobbin had been shunted onto a sidetrack by the auto. In his offer to sell himself, Cramer says he "is willing to do anything except commit murder or steal."

Proux was arrested in Dayton October 31, 1924, when he attempted to pass a check for $50 forged on the Regal Hotel here, where he had formerly been employed, it is said. He also left the city without paying a board bill.

Proux told Judge McCray that he was born in Paris, France, twenty-four years ago and was awarded the Croix de Guerre for meritorious service during the World War.

Abraham Lincoln's Birthday

Boston, Feb. 12.—The spirit of Abraham Lincoln, hovered today about three aged women—formerly slaves—at St. Monica's home in Roxbury.

Nowhere was his memory on his birthday honored with greater adoration than in the humble, silent reverence of these women.

One of them, Fannie Banks, is believed by Catholic sisters at the home to be 117 years old.

"God and Lincoln was good to me," she said today. "Lincoln set me free so I could work for myself and have shoes for my feet."

The other ex-slaves are Amanda Shepard, 87, and Louisa Green, 83.

Fifty Thousand Attend Popes Third Anniversary

Rome, Feb. 12.—Fifty thousand members of the Catholic faith were admitted to St. Peters today, where the third anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius was celebrated.

It was the first time the celebration was not held in the Sistine Chapel.

The public was admitted after high mass had been celebrated by Cardinal Locatelli, who was the first to receive the red hat from the present pope.

Pope Pius entered St. Peters from the sacristy chapel at 10:30 o'clock the procession taking the same order as when Cardinals Hays and Mundelein received the red hats.

Special seats were reserved for royalty, including the Princess Josephine of Belgium and Princess Mathilde of Saxony, Prince John of Saxony, Prince George of Bavaria, Prince Godfrey of Austria, as well as for the pope's family.

Perosi, the priest-composer, conducted the coronation orchestra. After mass had been celebrated, Pope Pius returned to the vatican in a palanquin.

WASHINGTON, D. C. FINDS TIME TO REMEMBER ABE

Recollect Lincoln's Rise to
To Fame as President
and Martyr

Washington, Feb. 12.—Although there was no official holiday and the government, including congress, functioned as usual, Washington found time today to observe Lincoln's birthday anniversary.

The capital's recollection of Lincoln centers about his occupancy of the White House in the days before and during the civil war for it was here that he rose to his greatness and accomplished the tasks which gave him his place in history.

In a silent old house in Georgetown, Robert Todd Lincoln, only living son of the president, observed his father's birthday quietly and alone, declining all invitations to public functions and formal anniversary ceremonies. His eighty-two years bear heavily upon him.

Ceremonies were held at the Willard hotel, where the tall, ex-congressman from Illinois stopped before he took the oath of the presidency for the first time; and at the Lincoln Memorial in Potomac park, where the great Lincoln statue looks out calmly and gravely to the shining dome of the capitol a mile and a half away.

The Willard observance was a luncheon under the auspices of the Lincoln memorial university at Harrogate, Tenn., which was founded in accordance with Lincoln's wish that educational facilities be provided for the mountain people of Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Addresses in eulogy of Lincoln were delivered by Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior Clegg, former Governor Lowden of Illinois; Judge Elbert H. Gary, John Kirby and John Wesley Hill of New York.

The speeches were broadcast through radio station WRC.

Later in the day, services largely attended, were held at the Lincoln memorial under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans of Maryland and the district of Columbia.

The Republican State Clubs, the League of Republican Women and Republican State Voters association, will hold memorial services tonight.

The little brick house, where Lincoln died in Tenth street, after being shot by John Wilkes Booth at Ford's theater, is now a museum and many visitors were attracted there today, more than usual on the great man's birthday.

DR. GEORGE HARDING RECALLS MEETING WITH ABE LINCOLN

Marion, O., Feb. 12.—Dr. George T. Harding, eighty, father of the late president, recalling today the only time he met Abraham Lincoln, said: "It was in the White House August of 1861. I called with another civil war comrade, E. M. Williams, who, afterwards, became editor of the Ohio Farmer. I said to Mr. Lincoln: 'Mr. President, we are Buckeyes and we came to shake your hand.' Lincoln stretched out both hands to us. 'Well,' he drawled, 'I am certainly glad to see such nice looking young men from the Buckeye state, which stood loyally by me. When you go back home tell them that you met the handsomest man you ever saw.'"

"And Lincoln never cracked a smile."

"But," continued, Dr. Harding today, "when you looked into Lincoln's face, and realized the heart of the man," he was not so homely. He was a great man."

Just fifty-two years after meeting Lincoln, Dr. Harding slept in the same room in which he talked to Lincoln when his son was president of the United States.

BELIEVE POISONING AT UNIVERSITY WILL REMAIN A MYSTERY

Columbus, O., Feb. 12.—Indications today are that the mystery surrounding the distribution of capsuled strychnine among Ohio State university students, resulting in two deaths and narrow escapes from death by at least four other students, will remain unsolved.

Police, who conducted an investigation into the mystery, admitted they have practically no hope of reaching a solution.

PLANS FOR PROGRAM OF CHAUTAUQUA ARE BEING ANNOUNCED

First announcement of program plans for the 1925 season has just been made by the local chautauqua committee. The seven-day Redpath assembly will include the American comedy, "Adam and Eva," which enjoyed a year's run at the Longacre Theater in New York City. Like-wise Comed's immortal grand opera "Faust" will be produced by the noted impresario, Milton Aborn. The Jackson Jubilee Singers, under the direction of Robert Jackson, head of the music department of Western University in Kansas City, will make a contribution of choice melody, featuring songs of the southland.

Among the lecturers to be offered are Hon. Charles H. Brough, former governor of Arkansas; Ruth Bryan Owen, distinguished daughter of a distinguished father, and Edward A. Marshall, landscape specialist. Others are to be announced within the next few weeks.

Jess Pugh, one of America's leading funmakers, is to be featured along with a brass choir from the studio of Thurlow Leverage in Lincoln, Neb. Just as fame came to Strickland Gillilan through his "Off Agin, On Agin, Gone Agin, Flagin," and to Ralph Bingham through his "Colored Picnic" and "Bill Johnson's One Tune," so fame came to Jess Pugh through the story of the "Snuff-Stricken Reader." It is a classic in character interpretation a real master piece of well acted humor. This number along with dialect stories and selections from heavier literature, will be included in Mr. Pugh's chautauqua program.

Some new features of chautauqua junior work will be offered next summer, including a special entertainment for the children on the closing afternoon, and the organization of a junior music club which is to be affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banishes every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenru, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Sohn's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenru with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of the disease he will gladly return your money without comment.

FRIENDS CAPTURE SECOND PLACE IN LEAGUE STANDING

By L. J. WONES

The First M. E. team lost a hard fought game Wednesday night at Central gym in the High School League of Sunday School basketball teams when the Friends church team won by a 12 to 8 score, the latter team winning second place in the standing.

The game was interesting and a bit rough. The winners were slightly outplayed in the opening half and after trailing at this time by a 6 to 5 score they made a nice comeback in the other two periods. A foul by Parks tied the score at six all. Mobley and Parks scored fielders and Smith dropped in a long one giving his team a six point lead. P. Spahr scored near the end of the fourth quarter and this was the only score the First M. E. Church team obtained in the second half. Smith, Mobley and Parks starred for the winners while North, Stearns and Spahr played well for the losers.

The Trinity M. E. team did not experience any trouble in downing the First U. P. team by a 25 to 4 score. The First U. P. team was handicapped not a little as Wakely and Tribby, two regulars, failed to show up.

The losers got but two fielders Davidson and Bales being the authors, in the first quarter. The winners then made baskets from all angles and also played a tight guarding game and held the First U. P. Church five scoreless the rest of the fray.

Howard Jordan and Morton were the shining lights for the Trinity bunch. Jordan was high man with five fielders and four fouls while Morton was runner up with a trio of baskets from the field and the same number from the charity line.

PHYSICIANS HOPE SMALLPOX SPREAD HAS BEEN CHECKED

Physicians have hopes that they have checked the epidemic of smallpox that has threatened the city for the past week, since no new cases of the disease have been reported in the last two days.

Thirteen cases are now under the care of physicians. Xenia doctors have been kept busy vaccinating school children and adults, since the threatened epidemic started.

Children whose parents are unable to pay for their vaccination have been treated at the offices of Dr. R. H. Grube, health commission each afternoon.

In addition to the smallpox scare, six cases of scarlet fever have been found in the vicinity of Cedarville and Miami Township, and one case of diphtheria in Jamestown. All cases of the diseases are under the care of doctors. No other communicable diseases have been reported to Dr. Grube.

RATHER HATES HERSELF

THE artist's model whose jewels to the value of $2,000 were alleged to have been stolen recently, certainly hates herself when she offers to give the thief a kiss as the reward for the return of her trinkets—and no questions asked.

A pretty dilemma for a porch-climber to be in. What shall be his choice? If he is a child of illusion, a romantic thief, one of those fictionalized nature's gentlemen who somehow get into unconventional modes of living, he will reason that a second of paradise is worth all the (reputed) jewels in the world. He will philosophize to himself that, after all, he took the (reputed) jewels as a means to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and all of that and each of those is contained in the pledged caress of the despoiled artist's model.

Contrariwise he may be simply a hard egg. He may say, with a loud and nasty jeer, that inasmuch as he can abstract jewels without difficulty, he can as easily confiscate kisses. Jewels (reputed or genuine) to the tune of $2,000 in the hand, he may argue, are worth more than any number of kisses. It is to be hoped he is not that sort of man. Surely gallantry has not left a profession which, in its earlier days, rather prided itself on its chivalry to womanhood.

KEEP AT IT MR. COOLIDGE

SINCE the war the cost of government has everywhere been excessive and the President is certainly right in incessantly hammering on the need of lightening this excessive overhead. The opportunities for lowering Federal expenses have by no means been exhausted. To that task Congress requires to be continually held by power of counsel from the White House and pressure of public opinion, but there is true economy that cuts out waste, extravagance and unprofitable expenditures and the harmful kind of economy that sacrifices essential service on the part of the Government. Retrenchment should mean more than merely smaller appropriations; it must mean smaller expenditures where justified and for sound reasons.

Where Mr. Coolidge is at a disadvantage in dealing with Congress is that if persuasion fails he can only use the veto. He cannot in appropriation bills approve good items and reject bad ones, as the Governor of New York can, and Congress profits by his lack of power. As a responsible executive and party leader Mr. Coolidge may from conviction preach economy, but unless Congress acts in the spirit of his teaching and practices economy as a matter of business the taxpayer will fare no better. In the end he is always at the mercy of Congress.

WHO WILL DECIDE?

WILL H. HAYS, overlord of the movies, come forth with the announcement that 3,500 reels of film "of special appeal to boys and girls" are to be shown Saturday mornings in many cities throughout the country. This raises the question of what our boys and girls of today will really find "appealing" on the screen. Will Mr. Hays decide what pictures will interest children, or will the children decide?

Attempting to choose anything for youngsters is a precarious business. How often has the parent seen an expensive toy tossed aside for a battered spool or a disreputable doll! Similarly will children scorn talking machine records of Mother Goose in favor of Beethoven or Berlin.

It isn't enough that Mr. Hays assures us the pictures will not be "goody good." Even if they aren't "goody good," they may be, in the opinion of the young spectators, "badly bad" should they fail to catch the fancy of the adolescent.

No one can say dogmatically what will entertain a child, except a child. Adults can say only what ought to entertain the child, which may be something altogether different.

AGE AND YOUTH

You are talking fame and fortune, you are young and brave and bold, And I'm talking friends and friendship—that's a friend I'm getting old; You are talking deeds of valor, high achievements and success, And no doubt you think me foolish just for talking helplessness. Well, I've lived for fame and fortune, served them both and struggled through,

Used to think them all-important when I was a lad like you; And when some old-foggy muttered words about the joy of friends, I just put him down as crazy; I was seeking nobler ends.

Youth must fight and try to conquer, seek new goals at every turn, Not from lips but from experience all the truths of life we learn; But when all the fighting's over, the battle's lost or won, Old men want to count their friends—ships and the good that they have done.

Have we thought and acted kindly, have we helped the time we could? Have we lived among our people as an influence for good?

Mrs. Saunders Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Troubles of Change of Life

Knoxville, Tenn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while going through the Change of Life. I was very nervous, could not sleep and had melancholy spells. In fact, I was nearly insane at times and my memory was almost a blank. I was so weak I could not do my housework half of the time and suffered dreadfully with my back. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I feel so well I think I do not need any medicine now, but I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."—Mrs. T. A. SAUNDERS, 711 E. Depot Street, Knoxville, Tenn.

BLIND MEN

The blood of this heart of mine runs slower and warms with sympathy and love toward that one who cannot see with his eyes.

And yet I have never known a blind man who was not patient and of sweet spirit.

One of the happiest memories of my college days is that of the hours spent in reading to a blind man and of his great appreciation. His fine and noble spirit often crosses my path in the midst of anxieties and problems and it tells me to be patient and not too fretful.

I have just finished reading the life of Joseph Pulitzer, who, for nearly a quarter of a century directed the New York World—while blind. But, oh, how much he saw!

Lafayette Hearn was almost totally blind and yet when I note all that he achieved and the vast amount of reading necessary to have written all that he did I am astounded. Prescott wrote a masterpiece of history while blind. Roosevelt had the use of only one eye during the last part of his marvelous career.

And I wonder how many realize that the great designer of ships and yachts, John B. Herreshoff, was totally blind? This blind man's fingers with their delicate touch created the greatest examples of yacht winners and pleasure vessels that have ever been built. Just consider that he was the head as well as the founder of that great shipbuilding house and that he was blind from the age of 15!

How very little we, who have eyes, actually see.

Just to look into the face of this world with its vastness of beauty and opportunity is a privilege. Why should time be wasted—why should there be any excuse whatsoever for repining or complaint?

Even when the eyes gather the gray rays and night enters, the lights in the heart should never dim or flicker.

COMMISSIONERS DECIDE AGAINST REAL ESTATE RE-APPRAISAL IN COUNTY THIS YEAR

There will be no re-appraisal of real estate and property in Greene County in 1925.

This was definitely decided by the County Commissioners after a short executive session Wednesday afternoon following the public hearing Monday morning, when all three members of the board concurred in voting against the appraisal this year.

The commissioners were influenced in their decision, they announced, by the probable enactment of new laws in the state legislature that would bring upon the taxpayers added expense.

At least two bills are now in the hands of the lower house, it is said, providing for emergency relief to the schools, which if passed would make the tax rate higher by a few cents.

A bill has also been introduced in the house providing for re-appraisal of all county property every four years, but may be amended to read for every six years beginning in 1926. If this were passed and the county went ahead with plans for a re-appraisal in 1925, the process would have to be repeated one year later. This would mean an additional expense to the county of more than $25,000, the minimum estimate for a county-wide appraisal, commissioners said.

A third reason against an appraisal of property this year is that no special fund has been laid aside covering the expense attached to such a move, with the result the county would be forced to go farther into debt by borrowing sufficient funds.

A re-appraisal of property in 1926 is practically certain, commissioners declared, whether by the enactment of a new law or by decision of the county commissioners.

The decision came somewhat as a surprise when it is considered that practically every argument introduced at the public hearing in the Assembly Room of the Court House Monday morning was in favor of a re-appraisal this year.

Fourteen years have elapsed since the county property has been appraised. The custom that an appraisal be made once every ten years was summarily rejected in 1920 because of the high prices real estate brought during the World War.

Wednesday's hearing was dropped in the afternoon, because of lack of attendance and commissioners reached their decision late the same afternoon.

GIRL DRINKS LYE IN EFFORT TO END LIFE AT HOME HERE

Anna Hipshire, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Hipshire, South West Street, may die as the result of swallowing a solution of lye Monday evening in an attempt to commit suicide.

The poison burned her seriously in the throat and internally. Possibility that a portion may have entered her lungs, causes Dr. Paul D. Espey attending physician, to fear pneumonia.

No reason for the suicide attempt can be given by members of her family and because the condition of her throat makes speech impossible, the girl has not been questioned to learn a motive. Relatives say they fear she became despondent due to a nervous condition.

The girl has been employed in a local rope mill. Monday she was at her work and Monday evening walked home with her mother, stopping at a grocery to buy a can of lye. She ate supper with members of her family and immediately after the meal retired to her room. Her cries attracted other members of the family shortly afterward.

The suicide of Velda Lemons here several weeks ago by drinking lye, inspired this means of ending her life, the girl admitted. "It is thought that she drank only a small quantity of the solution however and the fact that she expelled some of the poison immediately, aided efforts to save her life."

Members of her family declare that no trouble with her sweetheart presented itself as a possible motive. Edgar Perlin, Jasper Pike, said to have been "keeping company" with the girl, can assign no reason for the attempt to end her life. He visited her since the attempted suicide.

WILL BIND CLINE OVER TO GRAND JURY FOR APRIL ACTION

Ralph Cline, 19, Davies, W. Va., will probably be bound over to the Grand Jury by Police Judge E. D. Smith on a charge of passing a forged check on the Criterion Clothing Store for $20 and stealing $50 worth of clothes from Homer J. Hicks, 307 Hill Street, it is said.

A telegram was received from the father of the boy, who is a civil engineer at Davey, said he would be unable to come to Xenia and declared a letter would follow.

Deputy Sheriff George Spencer brought Cline to Xenia from Paulding, O., Tuesday and he was remanded to the County Jail in default of $500 bond when he pleaded not guilty to the charges at his arraignment in Police Court, Wednesday.

It has been learned that the Ford coupe he had been driving in Xenia was rented from the Bristol Buick Company, of Bristol, W. Va., while Cline was visiting his aunt there, and was not owned by the employer of his father as he first said. The car was rented from the "Renta-Ford" department, and Cline has since been touring the country. Cline rented the machine under the name of "Cyrus O. Canterbury, of Huntington, W. Va."

Cline made away with the clothing and passed the check while on a visit with friends here. While in Paulding he was also visiting a friend.

Cline was forced to buy Tennessee licenses for the machine while in that state. The car is here now and the owner is expected here to claim it. It was rented January 17 Cline will be held in the County Jail pending action of the April Grand jury. He was in school at Lynchburg when he began his tour.

DAYLIGHT DOES NOT AFFECT SHORT RADIO WAVES MUCH AS LONG

Manchester, Conn., Feb. 12.—Daylight conditions do not have a great effect on short radio waves as they do long waves is proved by the experience of John L. Reitz of this place who has just been in transmitting signals on the continent on a wavelength of only twenty-one meters.

Reception of his short wave signal under ordinary daylight conditions have been reported by two western amateurs—F. C. Jones of 1822 St. Avenue, Berkeley, Calif., and A. S. Votaw of Hartley, Iowa. Jones reported that he received signals from the station operated by William Justice Lee of Park, Fla. All of this transmission took place on Sunday, December 21.

In the last two years, amateurs have been attempting to relay code across the country in daylight, but their efforts were not very successful. The American Radio League organized the tests during which signals were transmitted one station to another on the short waves. In some cases the signals were started from the east coast and in others from the west coast simultaneously. Reitz, who is the inventor of the Reitz tuner, has been experimenting with short waves for some time, and the fact that his signal was transmitted the entire distance without relaying is regarded as an important demonstration of the value of the extremely short waves for daylight work. Mr. Reitz was the designer of the transmitter which made possible the first transatlantic communication by the Atlantic.

MILLIONAIRE REGAINS YOUTH

NOTED PHYSICIAN SAYS GLAND EXTRACTS WILL "MAKE OVER" MANY A MAN AND WOMAN.

The Western millionaire who recently married a famous and beautiful artist is reported to have paid a fabulous sum to receive the rejuvenating gland treatment from one of America's leading doctors. Feeding the blood with gland matter has met with amazing success, but until the discovery of Kath, only the very wealthy could afford the gland treatment. The Kath Institute reports that patients have been amazed to find a new spark of life ignited when the worn-out glands of the body are supplied with the genuine extract of animal glands, as found in Kath. Pep, strength, endurance, come back quickly in many cases. Appetite improves, flabby muscles take on new tone and the system tingles with fiery energy, say numerous users. The Kath gland treatment is for everyday folks who cannot afford high-priced medical treatment by specialists. In a few weeks this Kath treatment often has the same fine effects as the costly treatment now being taken by the large number of rich people—full healthy cheeks, an abundance of strength, vigor, love of action. The following druggists have been appointed local Kath representatives and are authorized to guarantee that unless the Kath gland treatment does exactly what is claimed for it—money will be refunded. Nerves All Unstrung?

Xenia Folks Should Find the Cause and Correct It.

Are you all worn out? Feel tired, nervous, half-sick? Do you have a constant backache; sharp twinges of pain, too, with dizzy spells and annoying urinary disorders? Then there's cause for worry and more cause to give your weakened kidneys prompt help. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Xenia folks recommend Doan's for just such troubles.

Mrs. Woodrow C. Warner, 225 E. Third St., Xenia, says: "When I stooped, I got sharp stabs of pain through my back and my back often felt so cramped. I could hardly move at times. Mornings my back and shoulders felt as stiff as a board. I was tired and weak and became dizzy. I also had severe nervous spells. My kidneys acted irregularly also. Doan's Pills relieved the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Warner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Get at the Real Cause—Take
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

None Can Copy Its Chief Value

The Chassis is Patented

Essex is a totally different type. It gives results no other car ever gave.

Low price, without disappointment in looks or reliability.

Economy without sacrifice of performance.

Stability and highest roadability without unnecessary weight.

The riding ease of large, costly cars. The handling ease of a bicycle. Utter simplicity in design.

The lowest maintenance cost, we believe, of any car in the world.

Two of every three Essex buyers come to it from those who formerly owned cars bought chiefly for their low first price.

Just as the Coach body and Coach name have been extensively copied, even by costliest cars, so must future mechanical design seek to approximate the results Essex gives.

But the patents which make the Super-Six the most enduring, smoothest motor and give it all advantages, also prevent any from copying its chassis.

Surely you cannot be satisfied with less than Essex offers. Its cost is but little more than cars of the lowest price.

NEW LAW GOVERNS POULTRY SHIPPING BECAUSE OF DISEASE

The State Department of Agriculture Division of Animal Industry has recently enacted new regulations for Ohio since it has been determined that the so-called European Poultry Pest, a contagious and infectious disease of fowls with high mortality exists in the United States, governing the shipment of poultry through Ohio, according to a report received by the Miami Hatchery, at Babb's Hardware Store.

It has been recently learned that fowls affected with this disease have been shipped to several points of Ohio, subsequently exposing Ohio poultry.

It has been ordered that all railroads, transportation companies and other carriers; also commission companies, assembling and feeding establishments, must destroy by deep burial in lime or by burning the carcasses of all dead fowls.

It has been reported that dead fowls have been thrown from cars containing diseased fowls en route through Ohio.

The state department is soliciting the co-operation of the poultry industry in all of its branches to prevent the Fowl Pest from spreading to Ohio which has thus far been practically free from the disease.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By GEORGE McMANUS

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA and JIM LELAND, bride and groom, settle in their new home to find that Jim's mother expects to rule their lives. Cynthia rebels; Jim's devotion to his mother blinds him. Cynthia meets PHIL GRAHAM, an old friend, and invites him home for the night.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XI—COMPLICATIONS

AS Cynthia stood staring at her husband's telegram, Madame Leland appeared in the library doorway. "Ah, Cynthia," she murmured sweetly,

VIOLET DARE

"I was waiting for you. I'm going to take you home with me to stay while James is away. There's no need of keeping the two houses open, with just a lone woman staying in each one. We can be company for each other."

Cynthia hesitated about replying, not knowing just what to say. She did not want to stay with her mother-in-law, but she realized that Madame Leland was trying hard to overlook everything and be friendly, and that she too must do her part.

"That was so kind of you," she answered after a moment. "I'll run upstairs and pack a bag, and be with you immediately."

"Oh, I had Frances pack your bag while I waited; I supervised it myself, so I'm sure that you'll have everything you want," replied Madame Leland calmly. Cynthia's face burned. She could not bear to have anyone take her so for granted as her mother-in-law did. She longed now to cry out that she would stay in her own home, where she wanted to be; that she would not go a step toward the other house.

But remembering her vow of the night before she merely followed Jim's mother out to the car that had just arrived, and sat quietly listening while Madame Leland talked all the way to her home about Jim's trip, and how long he would be gone.

It seemed to Cynthia, as she unpacked her belongings in Madame Leland's guest room, that she never could stay there a single night. She wanted Jim more than she ever had before. If only he had been there with her, to take her in his arms and kiss her and tell her that nothing mattered, anyway, she could have stayed quite cheerfully. But to see Madame Leland all day and every day and never be allowed to have a thought of her own was a prospect that she would have given anything to avoid.

She wondered how long Madame Leland would avoid the subject of Phil Graham. Would she completely ignore having seen them having luncheon that day, or would she tactfully bring it up later?

That question was answered when dessert had been served and the maid had withdrawn.

"Cynthia dear, I don't want you to think that I'm finding fault with you, but do you think it was quite wise to greet your friend, Mr.—er—Mr. Walte, is it, so exuberantly this noon?"

"His name is Graham," said Cynthia, steadily enough. "And I hadn't realized that I was acting unconventionally. He's such an old friend, really like a brother to me and I was awfully glad to see him."

"Yes, of course; but a young woman, and especially a bride, has to be careful, especially when she's a stranger in her new home, city."

Mrs. Leland went on, smoothly, Cynthia wished that she wouldn't be quite so suave about it. Why pretend to be so sweet when she really didn't feel that way at all?

"A number of persons spoke to me about it," Madame Leland went on, between spoonfuls of frozen pudding. "and Louella asked me if I didn't think I ought to suggest to you that you act with a little more restraint."

"Louella probably never had a man that glad to see her in her life," thought Cynthia, but she kept the thought to herself, and merely murmured "Oh, yes," as if the words had not cut her cruelly.

"You see, people are so quick to misunderstand a girl; why, I remember before Louella and Marjorie were married, I never even allowed them to lunch alone with a man, except at Lewis', where they'd been allowed to go as very young girls; everyone realizes that it's quite all right for a girl who's made her debut to lunch unchaperoned at Lewis'."

"Then I suppose it would have been all right if Phil and I had gone there today?" asked Cynthia, a hint of malice in her tone at what must seem like mere misunderstanding on her part.

"Well, I hardly think so. Frank-

"I had Frances pack your bag."

ly, Cynthia, it seems to me that it would have been much better if you had not lunched alone anywhere with Mr. Graham. Now, if you had asked someone else to go with you—myself, for instance, or Louella—"

"But I had understood that you were frightfully upset about the financial matters you've been discussing with Jim, and so I couldn't feel free to ask you. And Louella is so busy with her children at noon as a rule; I wouldn't have dared ask her."

Cynthia hated herself for the pretense she was making of having wanted to ask them; she hadn't even thought of doing so, of course. But she was thoroughly out of patience with Madame Leland, who now, cornered, admitted that it did seem that Cynthia could not have followed her suggestion.

"But you shouldn't have lunched with him at all, under those circumstances," she concluded. "It was really most unwise. James is so likely to overlook such matters that I really must be severe with you, Cynthia. Don't do it again, will you?"

"Hardly," answered Cynthia, staring at her plate and hoping that the tears in her eyes would not fall. "Phil's gone away, and said when he left that he wouldn't be back again. When the people at home hear how unwelcome he was in my home they aren't likely to come to see me if they happen to be in town."

And in silence that spoke louder than many words, Madame Leland led the way to the drawing room.

QUIT GETTING UP NIGHTS

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

"C. N. Shuman, Republic, Ohio, says: 'Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble.' Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as Epsom Salts do the bowels, driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes 'Getting Up Nights.' These tablets cost 25c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Sayre and Hemphill. Adv."
